Mission Statement: (8/29/2006)
As a Vatican II Church, we strive to provide uplifting experiences where people gather to be nourished, to be given new hope, to be challenged by the Gospel and to be reenergized so that they can return to the world to fulfill Jesus' mission of loving God and loving humankind.

From the Pastor's Desk:

Dear parishioners and friends of Christ,

Some basic skills in life include learning how and when to say please and thank you to others. Sometimes we don't have material goods available to share with others and that is okay to admit this; however, the way in which we interact with others can still be a way to give respect to people. If we tend toward being people-pleasing it can be difficult to say "no" without feeling guilty.

The virtue of humility connects us with reality; we don't have to pretend to have something we do not have. We are called to love ourselves and others in the present moment because God loves us. God, who St. John said is love, does not always bless his saints with a lot of material things, but they can still be loved by Him. So too, our blessing of others may be giving them time and sharing our talents rather than giving material possessions. Some do have treasure to share, but their life circumstances don't always allow them extra time to give. Together, as one body of Christ, we can still be good and faithful stewards.

As a parish we are called together by the Lord to be His people; in our responding to the voice of God, we discover blessings to share. This month we reflect on the notion of being a steward — you may have received or will soon receive a commitment card through the mail. Let us gracefully discern how to respond as a steward. The annual renewal or commitment allows us to ask the Lord what He is asking for this year. You are invited to take the next three weeks trying to listen to Him before filling out your pledge card. Do you have some time and talent this year that you could share with others at the parish as we strive to be good stewards for the Lord?

Beginning a new season gives us a chance to reflect on creating new schedules, let us also try to include daily a thanksgiving to God for the blessings we have been given. This is also an opportunity to say thank you to the people in our life that have been a blessing to us. Sometimes we get so busy that it is a challenge to think beyond the moment, leading us to forget to say thank you when we really are grateful.

I do offer thanks to God for leading me to faith in His son Jesus Christ and the call to the priesthood; to the bishops of Lincoln and Grand Island for allowing me to come to St. Leo's parish. I offer thanks to you for being open to God's call in your lives and for the welcome you have given to me.

May the Lord continue to fill you with His grace and peace,

Msgr. Mark Huber

~ Confirmation 2026 ~

"You are Peter and upon this rock I will build my church." (Matthew 16:18)

Pray for Vocations

Vocations Ministry Team

God does not call the perfect or extraordinary. Like Peter, ordinary men and women are invited to play extraordinary roles in His plan through priesthood, consecrated life or holy matrimony. Whatever your gifts or weaknesses, God can use you to build His church and bring His love to the world. Be open and vigilant in prayer and if you have questions, talk to Fr. Neal Hock at the Vocation Office 308-234-1539 or email vocations@gidiocese.org.

Stewardship

Servants

Stewards are by definition servants. Have you noticed that the more you serve, the more comfortable you become doing so? The more you witness and experience the service of others, the more inspired you will be to reach out in love and care. To love so completely, to serve as Jesus calls us, we must be willing to see the needs of people around us —"As I have loved you, so you also should love one another"

Be gracious and give thanks

21st Sunday in Ordinary Time Aug. 23, 2026

- ◊ Who do others say that Jesus is? Who do you say that Jesus is?
- ◊ How has the church's ministry of "loosing" sins in the sacrament of reconciliation played a role in your spiritual journey?
- ◊ Jesus promises Peter that the gates of the netherworld will not prevail against the church. Do you ever find this hard to believe? Where is Jesus inviting you to trust him?

Dcn Ron Golka

Thoughts from Deacon Ron

"I will summon my servant," states God in Isaiah. God summons each one of us to be humble servants. Like Eliakim in the OT reading, and Peter in the Gospel this week, each of us symbolically holds the keys or the responsibility to serve the vision of God's kingdom.

Eliakim becomes the highest official in the Jerusalem palace after the previous official loses the position because of his arrogance. Peter's responsibility, and the church's, transcends physical space, reaching to the underworld and to the heavens. While Peter has come to symbolize papal authority, each one of us bears the responsibility to serve God's kingdom.

As you pray this week, imagine Jesus summoning you and giving you the "keys to the kingdom of heaven."

What will your response be?

God's peace be with you and your families this week!

Pray for Vocations

Traveling Crucifix for Vocations

It's no secret that the Diocese of Grand Island needs more vocations, particularly priests. The vast size of our diocese (more than 40,000 square miles) makes it difficult for one priest to cover more than a couple of parishes within a reasonable driving distance. Help increase vocations with prayer by signing up for either the Traveling Crucifix or the Vocations Bear. Prayer is a powerful tool!
